Dear Dr Truong Cong Bang

We are delighted to inform you that Mr Ngo Van Thuc from Mien Tay Construction University has been offered a place to participate in the Researcher Connect Online training course from 27 February to 9 March 2023 funded by the British Council.

Researchers Connect is a grant-funded project run through the British Council's Going Global Partnership programme. The training has enhanced the skills of thousands of early career researchers (ECR) across the world. You will find an overview of the modules in the brochure attached to this letter.

The training course will commence at 14.00 – 17.00 (Vietnam time) on Monday – Thursday from 27 February and complete on the 9 March 2023. He will join with fellow ECRs from Vietnam.

In order to be fully benefited and certified from the training course, participants are expected to actively participate of at least 80% attendance. We would like to seek for your support to ensure that his line manager is aware that he will be unavailable during the workshops.

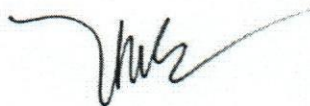

An Impact survey will be sent approximately six months after the training, this is for us to analyse how participants have implemented the training and whether the training provided any longer-term value to them and their career. We would like to share with you in a due course.

This programme is part of British Council's support to enhance research skills for early career researchers from Vietnamese universities, which are members of UK-Viet Nam Higher Education Network and are under Newton Fund programme. There will be an opportunity for the ECRs to participate in a post training ECR mentorship programme conducted by Vietnam Intellectual Society in the UK and Ireland.

Should you have any other questions regarding this training, then please contact Phi Phan at phi.phan@britishcouncil.org.vn.

Thank you very much!
